Lakewood, Colo— On Sunday, September 22, the Denver Area Council (DAC), Boy Scouts of America, will attempt to beat the Guinness World Record’s current record for the largest human image of a Fleur de Lis.

The record is currently held by Scouts in UK in 2018, of which 445 participants held the formation for five minutes. The DAC intends to break the record with at least 1,000 Scouts, Scouters, and family members attending the Council Camporee.

The Council Camporee takes place every four years at Peaceful Valley Scout Ranch. The DAC expects 3,000 to 5,000 attendees who will enjoy a weekend full of Scouting activities, such as archery, orienteering, and boating, beginning Friday, September 20.

The first time the DAC set a world record was at the 2015 Council Camporee, where 2,681 Scouts, Scouters, and family members set the world record for “Most people popping bubble wrap.” Scouts popped sheets of bubble wrap continuously for three minutes.
